An ornate, historical-style document or charter. At the top center, a large double-headed eagle with a crown on its head is set against a sky with clouds and other eagles. Below the eagle, a central panel features the Russian coat of arms (a red bear on a white shield). The document is filled with text, including a list of names and dates. The entire page is decorated with intricate patterns and smaller figures of people in historical attire. The text is in Cyrillic script.
